

Adeyanju Olomola

A quick thinker with deep insights

Overview

Adeyanju is a leadership and organisational coach who knows what it takes to build strong teams. She focuses on creating a space of authenticity, empathy and trust for her clients. With a background in operations, Adeyanju uses her hands-on experience to help managers and executives find balance between their organisational and personal goals. In addition, she coaches females in mid-to-senior management positions on letting go of self-doubt so that they can lead with confidence and joy.

Prior to coaching, Adeyanju spent 20 years in the fast-moving consumer goods world. She held key roles as both the National Key Accounts Director and Head of Public Affairs & Communications at the Nigerian Bottling Company, a division of the Coca-Cola Group.

Location

Nigeria

Languages

English

Specialties

Transformational leadership, personal & professional development, career & life transitions, skills training, building and resourcing teams, performance management and mentoring.

Clients

Adeyanju's clients span across multiple industries that include consumer goods, food & beverage and shipping & logistics.

Training & Qualifications

- PCC, Professional Certified Coach (International Coaching Federation)
- Certified CoachHub Coach
- Extended DISC Behavioural Assessment Consultant
- B.Sc. Industrial Chemistry (University of Ibadan, Nigeria)
- Master of Business Administration (The Federal University of Technology, Nigeria)