

André Babikian

A great communicator and high-impact presenter

Overview

André is an executive coach and adviser, leadership development trainer, communication and high-impact presentation skill trainer and mentor for young leaders. Following his early career in the TV industry, where he had leading roles in International Emmy-award-winning TV shows, André now specializes in developing leaders in global companies in leadership and communications-related coaching and training.

André works with leaders at all levels, whether at the start of their leadership career or at executive level. He helps them to develop and maximise their emotional intelligence and executive presence, enabling them to be authentic, impactful communicators.

Location

Denmark

Languages

Danish (native)
English

Specialties

Executive coaching, leadership coaching and training, coaching skills training, communication skills, mentoring for young leaders.

Clients

André works with international clients in a wide range of industries including engineering, manufacturing, media, retail, shipping & logistics, technology and telecoms.

Training & Qualifications

- EMCC-accredited Master's degree in Business Coaching (Copenhagen Coaching Centre, Denmark)
- ICF-accredited Professional Coach Training (Co-Active Training Institute, UK)
- Certified user of following assessment tools: HOGAN, LVI-360 Leadership Versatility Index and People Test System/People Test Logic
- Diploma in Management (Metropolitan University College, Copenhagen, Denmark)
- Actor at The National Theatre School of Denmark