

Isabelle Courtney-Guy

Loving every second helping people create breakthrough, purpose-led results

Overview

Isabelle is a transformational team, executive and leadership coach with over 2,000 hours of professional coaching experience. She is passionate about supporting teams and organisations to embrace and navigate rapid change powerfully, by supporting the growth of systems thinking capability, and to create cultures of inclusivity, trust, strong relationships, brilliant communication and alignment. Isabelle creates a very safe and fun space for clients to go deep and creative. This brings her clients greater resilience, self-awareness and choice about their style and impact as leaders and shows them how to create the right environments in their teams to create sustainable high performance.

Her early career was in sales, marketing and business development, working in professional services and technology, before moving into learning & development and ultimately coaching. She now supports clients at all levels of seniority and experience, from senior leadership team members to supervisors, to achieve their goals.
