

Jean-Francois Cousin

Loves an epic story – especially yours!

Overview

Jean-Francois is a global executive coach who works with CEOs, C-Suite executives, and leadership teams across all industries and services. He believes that everyone has the potential for greatness and makes it his mission to support organisations in harnessing their growth. As a former senior executive, he is skilled at partnering with senior leaders due to his ability to quickly understand their environment and pressure-points. He is a natural born storyteller and leads with enthusiasm and passion.

Prior to coaching, Jean-Francois spent over 15 years in the corporate sector. In his most recent role, he was the Global VP of Strategy for Lafarge, a leading multinational company in the building materials industry. He is also a keynote speaker, and has engaged hundreds of audiences around the world.

Location

Thailand

Languages

French (native)
English

Specialties

Leadership development, onboarding, career transition, organisational and cultural change management, strategic planning and cross-cultural leadership.

Clients

Jean-Francois' clients include multinational companies in the automotive, communication, construction, consulting, consumer goods, energy, finance, healthcare, hospitality, manufacturing, non-profit and retail industries.

Training & Qualifications

- MCC, Master Certified Coach (International Coaching Federation)
- Certified user of Booth 360, DiSC, Hogan, and MBTI
- Master of Engineering (Ecole Centrale Paris, France)
- Senior Executive Education program (Duke University, USA)