

Martin Haworth

Believes unwaveringly that you can!

Overview

Martin is a leadership coach and trainer, with almost 3,000 hours of one-to-one coaching since 2001. He has a passionate belief — borne out of working with over 200 coaching clients — that everyone has the potential to be happy, successful and valued in their work and life. Martin works with leaders on most aspects of leadership. Also a writer, of over 400 business and leadership articles, in addition to 'Super Successful Manager!', 'How To Land Your Dream Job', 'How to Win at Assessment Centers' and 'Succession Planning Toolkit'.

From a previous career in pharmacy leading teams from 6 to 300 people over 25 years, Martin has the personal experience on which to base his work with others. Ever resourceful, supportive and flexible, he is renowned for being a good listener and a coach who only wants the very best for the client he collaborates with.

Location

UK

Languages

English

Specialties

Leadership development, including time management, communication, feedback, coaching, performance management, individual development, pipeline, succession planning.

Clients

Martin has worked with over 50 organisations globally in a wide range of businesses and industries, from global household names to smaller organizations, including financial services, manufacturing, pharmaceuticals, professional services, shipping, technology and telecoms.

Training & Qualifications

- PCC, Professional Certified Coach (International Coaching Federation)
- BPharmS (University of Bradford, UK)