

Sallyann Weston-Scales

Supports clients to create a culture that people want to be part of with leaders who follow their purpose

Overview

Sallyann has over 20 years' experience of leadership coaching and culture change, supporting global organisations to create more inclusive cultures, develop better ways of working and retain their key talent. Before specialising as an executive coach and leadership facilitator, she gained a broad experience of the corporate world having made several career changes, starting out as a corporate lawyer and progressing through various roles including Power Station Fuel Buyer, Internal Change Manager, Change Management Consultant, before finding her true home as a Coach and Leadership consultant.

Sallyann's core value is making a difference to others, and she is passionate about enabling her coachees to discover their true purpose and unblock any perceived barriers to progression, in particular enabling female leaders "to source their magnificence!"

Location

UK

Languages

English

Specialties

Transition coaching, inclusive leadership, effective communication, team facilitation and leadership development.

Clients

Sallyann has worked with clients in a wide range of sectors from advertising and media, energy and utilities, financial services, manufacturing, pharmaceuticals and professional services.

Training & Qualifications

- PCC, Professional Certified Coach (International Coaching Federation)
- NLP Master Practitioner
- Generative Coaching Program and Generative Trance Program
- Advanced Patterns in Hypno-psychotherapy (Awaken School)
- Certified user of Emotional Intelligence Profile
- Master of Business Administration (Henley Management College, UK)
- Bachelor of Law (Nottingham Trent University, UK)