

Simon Blackhall

A multi-dimensional coach with an artistic spirit

Overview

Simon is a consciousness coach, a transformation partner and a keynote speaker. With a background in theatre, he won awards in both London and Rome as an actor. Since moving into coaching and leadership development, his work has been recognised as winner of a CEO Today Management Consulting Award and CV Magazine Coaching Top 50.

Simon's particular expertise lies in working with individuals, organisations and leaders to hone and expand their spiritual consciousness while advancing their careers and personal lives. His coaching allows his clients to reconnect to their creative impulse and catalyse auspicious new beginnings. His mission as a coach is to co-create the expansion for this unfolding world by holding a space of truth and light in which others can come forth. In the words of Nelson Mandela, "It always seems impossible until it's done".
