

Tine Gaihede

A keen believer in the power of authenticity in leadership

Overview

Tine is an executive coach and expert in leadership and personal development. Her specialty is working with culturally diverse teams and leaders in times of profound change. New ways of thinking and acting, creating trust, focus, communication, and involving key-stakeholders are the key aspects of her training. She challenges global-minded leaders and teams to expand who they are and how they create results. Tine has coached more than 600 business leaders and individuals from a variety of sectors: Danish, European and international. Her extensive training and experience are matched with a great passion for bringing her clients to a deeper awareness of themselves as people and as leaders.

Tine served as the President for The International Coaching Federation in Denmark in 2012. Prior to coaching she spent 15 years in the cultural sector in Denmark and at a European level.

Location

Denmark

Languages

Danish (native)
English

Specialties

Transformational leadership, communication, 360 feedback, systemic coaching, role-playing, cross-cultural training and team building.

Clients

Tine partners with a variety of clients, including in the banking, food & beverage, manufacturing, professional services, shipping & logistics and technology industries.

Training & Qualifications

- MCC, Master Certified Coach (International Coaching Federation)
- Certified Professional Co-Active Coach (Co-Active Training Institute)
- Certified NLP Master Practitioner
- Certified user of Hogan, DISC, and Motivation Factor
- Master of Science, Economics (University of Copenhagen, Denmark)
- Master of Arts, Policy & Management (University of London, UK)