

Julia Holloway

Supporting leaders to make a greater business impact

Overview

Julia brings over 25 years of corporate experience to her executive coaching assignments, including senior-level roles in sales, marketing, business development, IT, and operations in the financial services industry. She spent the early part of her career as an investment attorney.

As an executive coach and leadership development consultant, she helps leaders enhance their capabilities, navigate through complex change, and create positive and engaging cultures. She accomplishes this by taking a personal interest in her clients, understanding their business needs and walking in their shoes. She is also an executive coach and team facilitator for programs run by Harvard Business School.

Location

USA

Languages

English

Specialties

International leadership, strategic planning, leadership development and education, team building, cross-functional team leadership and business growth.

Clients

Julia works with C-Suite executives and business managers from diverse backgrounds and industries including education, energy, government agencies, professional services and technology.

Training & Qualifications

- PCC, Professional Certified Coach (International Coaching Federation)
- Coaching Supervisor (Coaching Supervision Academy Ltd)
- Somatics Coaching Certification (Strozzi Institute)
- Certified user of Enneagram, EQ Assessment, Hogan and MBTI
- JD, Doctor of Law (Northeastern University School of Law, USA)
- BA English Language and Literature (Smith College, USA)